

PLTS - Independent Enquirers

After having discussed the meaning of being an Independent Enquirer and having decided on the rules and expressions for being one, how much of an independent enquirer have you become? Please answer the following questions on the topic.

Country *

- Finland
- Greece
- Poland
- Spain
- Portugal
- Italy

Which of the following characteristics do you recognise in yourself? *

- Open-mindedness
- Respect for evidence and reasoning
- Ability to consider different perspectives and points of view
- Scepticism (questioning attitude or doubt toward knowledge claims)
- Clarity and precision while expressing yourself
- Confidence in what you can do on your own
- Ability to use different research tools (internet, books...)
- Ability to analyse information in an impartial way

Do you consider planning what to do and how to go about your investigations important? *

- Yes, now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you think processing and evaluating information in your investigations is important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you think taking informed and well-reasoned decisions and recognising that others have different beliefs and attitudes is important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you think that analysing and evaluating information clearly, judging its relevance and value is important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you think planning and carrying out research, appreciating the consequences of your decisions is important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you consider exploring issues, events or problems from different perspectives important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you believe considering the influence of circumstances, beliefs and feelings on decisions and events is important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you find supporting your conclusions, using reasoned arguments and evidence important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Do you find explaining the decisions you make and discussing or presenting their possible consequences important? *

- Now I do.
- Yes.
- I'm not sure.
- No.
- Absolutely no.

Este conteúdo não foi criado nem aprovado pela Google.

Google Formulários